RHEUMATISM AND ALLIED PAINS

—THEY MUST GO.

The congestion of the blood in its flow causes pain. Sloan's Liniment penetrates to the congestion and starts the blood to flow freely. The body's warmth is renewed; the pain is gone. The man or woman who has rheumatism, neuritis or other pain and fails to keep Sloan's Liniment in their home is like a drowning man, refusing a rope. Why suffer. Get a bottle of Sloan's. The one bottle, $1.00 bottle holds six times as much as 25c size.—d&w

Laudanum Larry's Luck.
Gentlemen—"What would you do with a nickel if I gave you one?" Tramp (sarcastically)—"Get a new rig, master, no some supper as a night's lodgin' an' breakfast an' dinner tomorrow." Gentleman—"My good fellow, take this quarter and support yourself for the rest of your life."

Capital Offenses.
"You are opposed to capital punishment?" "Yes, even in its mildest form. I don't even approve the writers and speakers who begin every other sentence with a capital 'I'."

Italian Lemons In America.

Most of the lemons consumed in the United States come from Italy. The eastern half of the United States is almost wholly supplied from Italy, mainly through the ports of New York and New Orleans. The middle West, north of Ohio receives one-half of its supply from Italy. On the other hand, the territory west of the Missouri river, with western Texas, uses almost exclusively California lemons.

Hanging for Stealing Sheep.

Until 1827 stealing a sheep was a capital crime in Great Britain. An act of that year removed the distinction between grand and petit larceny; before that year the theft of goods above the value of 12 pence, in the house of the owner though not from his person, was a capital crime. In 1840 over 200 and in 1819 about 180 criminals were punishable by the death penalty.

Bull Upset Justice.

An enraged bull attacked a justice of the peace of Larganreagh, County Donegal, Ireland. The man was sitting on a bridge when the bull came at him and tumbled him into the water. It went in after him, seriously wounding him about the head and body. Some farm hands managed to drive the bull off and rescue the justice.

Baffling English Names.

We may puzzle our brains over the tongue-twisting names which France and Russia have given to some of their towns, but England herself furnishes a few quite as dazzling as that of Przemysl, Horstmonceaux, for instance, is pronounced Her-sos; Kirkcudbright, Kir-coo-bray; Daventry, Denbury; Leominster, Lester, and Evesham, Esham.

***** NINNEKAH ITEMS. *****

Even larger than the Thanksgiving dinner the ladies of the Christian church are going to serve. The names of Mr. & Mrs. Thompson and Miss Thompson emerged in Chickasha, Saturday.

Miss Nannie Thompson spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

John Scott made several trips to Oklahoma City the last week, buying bags.

Joe Anderson and family were in Chickasha, Thursday evening last.

Remember the annual fair November 25 for the benefit of the school.

Miss Carrie Thompson, Zella Russell and Maude Anderson entertained a large number of their people and friends Friday night in the Woods and Goss. A huge fire was built inside which all gathered to eat dinner, tell stories and meet acquaintances. Others tried to tell about the good time they had, for words fail.

Miss Nettie Coryell spent Wednesday in Mineral. She met with the boys and girls choir in the morning and with the Ladies Home Improvement club in the afternoon. The meetings were well attended and much interest shown. The girls will meet at Mildred Russell's home the second Wednesday in December at 2 o'clock p.m. The Improvement club will meet at the home of Mrs. John Lentz on the same date at 4 o'clock p.m.

We thought we had about the only school around here and were very much surprised when we attended the Union Hill Memory Society Friday night to find we didn't have a thing on them. We certainly enjoyed their splendid program and snappy debate. Professor Jackson has unusually interest developed to a high degree in his district and Union Hill has a right to be proud of their school.

HELP WANTED—Mr. Gadd, Chickasha's music man, has agreed to loan me, free of charge, as many of his choice graphophone records as we wish. These will be played at the Christian church Saturday night, November 27. Admission: School children, 5¢; all others, 10¢. The door receipts will be used to purchase new records for our school. We want your help.

Meadows Gerard, Duff, Farley, William J. Hoover, C. M. Lentz and John Lentz visited the school last week. We are pleased to note the interest being manifested by the patrons.

The Union Hill school will have a pie supper Friday night. Prof. Bert Jackson has said he will buy and eat all the pumpkin pies there. Let us all go and take pumpkin pies but not physically and financially.

Room No. 5, Miss Hattie Thompson, teacher, entertained at assembly Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read a what Chickasha citizen says:

W. M. Williams, Chickasha, says:

"Whenever, as the result of a cold settling on my kidneys or a strain from standing long, I have suffered from lameness in my back or have noticed an irregular action of my kidneys, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills. The results have always been satisfactory."

Dessie Lentz spent the day Sunday with her little friend, Ernestine Gerard.

J. L. Wright was quite ill Saturday and Sunday.

J. W. Hoover bought a span of miles from Alex Mackey, paying $350 for them.

Mrs. Ella Waltham of Lawton visited her sister, Mrs. Pounds, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Washem left Ninnekah, Saturday for western Texas.

Misses Roswell and Junius visited

George Beemer's Sunday.

T. H. Blackhead's funeral took place Saturday in Chickasha.

Dr. Jones was in Chickasha for a brief visit yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dryden of Elsie Springs were in town on account of Charles Lewis and family this week.

William J. Hoover made a pleasant trip to the dentist office in Chickasha Sunday. May be located soon in general when he returned.

Edgar Jones had the Chipping entertainment Thursday of falling leaves a success well. He was surprised, but doesn't care to repeat the performance.

W. H. Hoover and family were in Chickasha, Friday.

Joe Anderson visited several out-of-town friends Sunday.

Snowlight school attendance is still increased. They meet every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday night.

The educational rally is on. It began here Sunday with an inspiring sermon in the morning by Rev. Mr. Carpenter of Lawton. In the afternoon the business men of the town met and discussed plans to make this rally be of lasting benefit to our community. At 7 o'clock p.m. a union meeting was held in the Christian church. Capt. E. H. Russell first addressed the meeting telling of the origin and extent of the statewide rally and what was hoped to be accomplished by it. Rev. Mr. Carpenter followed making a scholarly address calling on the church people and business men to set behind this great school movement and push while the teachers pulled. At the close of his address, C. M. Lentz of the Citizens State bank made the motion: "Be it resolved that the citizens of Ninnekah consolidated school district aid every way they can the noble work undertaken by the teachers. The motion was seconded by 'Uncle' Billy Carroll, the motion passed before the house, and unanimously adopted.

Our educational rally program for the two weeks is:

Monday morning—Rev. Mr. Carpenter will address the school.

Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock—Address by Professor Jamison of the C. S. N. Edmond.

Thursday—Visit by high school inspector and county superintendent.

Sunday, Nov. 21—Educational service at Baptist church.

Thanksgiving Day—Program by school at 7 o'clock p.m.

Friday, Nov. 26—Community rally at school.

Sunday, Nov. 28—Educational service at Methodist church.

TURN THE CHILDREN LOOSE

Best Way to Develop the Muscles Both of Boys and Girls, According to Speculation.

Turn them loose—this is the best way to develop the muscles of boys and girls. Turn them loose and let them live wild—allow them to run, jump, climb, swing, play with the dogs, dig in the garden, pick flowers, boy, girl, and jump, and do all sorts of things that a natural human animal would do. The trouble is, our boys and girls are not wild enough. We are all born wild and in the civilized process have to be tamed more or less. Most of us, however, get tamed too much. We presume no one is spoiled.

Don't be afraid of the children getting dirty. Dress them for it. Girls should be put into tunics like a boy, instead of skirts. Tunics would be much more modest than the ordinary dress of girls three years of age. Their skirts generally hardly reach down to their knees and their legs are bare, or if not bare, they are glad in such a way that they are certainly not anything like as modestly clothed as they would be if they had on tunics like the boys—little roundabout clothes—and just turned loose to play in the dirt, to make mud pies, to get down and wallow in the earth.

There is no danger in this. The soil is clean dirt, as to speak, there is nothing pernicious in it.—Dr. A. H. Kalloch, in Good Health.

WOULD SERVE TWO PURPOSES

Proposal of Miss Butterly to Go as
Army Nurse Met Little Opposition
From Mother.

The modern well-to-do mother and to her daughter:

"Have you scattered everything about your room until it has a hopeless air of confusion?"

"I have, mother."

"Have you taken all the towels out of the linen closet and strewn them over the bathroom floor?"

"Yes, mother."

"Have you had a lot of extra things charged to your dear papa that he doesn't know about?"

"Yes, mamma."

"And exceeded your allowance?"

"Yes, mamma."

"Then don't you think you ought to do something serious?"

"I do, mamma, and I think it would be just beautiful to be a Red Cross nurse."

You know, I read aloud quite well, and it would be so delightful to sit by the bedside of those charming soldiers and smooth their brows. And it would help to bring out my character.

Her dear mother was thoughtful for a moment. Then she replied sweetly:

"Yes, darling; and, besides, it would give us such a rest."—Life.

Another Smith Added.

"And lo, there were no Smiths in all the land," said the prophet who wrote one of the books of the Bible. He thought it a great hardship. There are many Smiths in this country, and another one has just been added. The man's name was forced upon him.

Peter Angelo is now thirty-four years old, and when he first appeared as a small boy in public for some reason did not take kindly to his last name and changed it to Smith. Playmates and school teachers called him Peter Smith, and when he grew up he enlisted in the navy, still being known as Peter Smith. He went into business as Peter Smith, was married as Smith and now has two children who are called Smith. Mr. Angelo asked the court permission to be legally known as Peter Smith, and the justice obligingly granted the request.—New York Times.
